MARKET VENDORS

Only approved products that are made, baked, grown, raised, caught or harvested by an approved vendor in Nova Scotia may be sold at the market. Preference will be given to vendors who are primary producers of the products they are selling. A Primary Producer is a vendor who grows or harvests the raw materials for direct sale or manufacturing into products, a secondary producer is a vendor who purchases raw materials for manufacturing into products. All Vendors must comply with relevant regional regulations and all food vendors must have public health approval to sell each of their products at Halifax Brewery Market.

Halifax Brewery Market may approve vendors who sell some food products that are not their own. A minimum of 75% percent of product sold by food producers must be of the members' own production. All products sold by non-food vendors must be of their own production.

Agrarian & Fishery Vendors are a person, family or collective who produces agricultural products from land that they own or control or has a license to harvest from. Examples include produce, eggs, dairy, honey, meat, fish, plant nursery products and fiber. An agrarian vendor may sell value-added products made from their own farm product.

Prepared Food Vendors are those that sell coffee baking, fresh juice and smoothies, soups & stocks, and fresh or frozen meals. Prepared Food Vendors will be asked to provide samples of products, documentation about preparation kitchens, and food safety plans.

Craft and Artisan Vendors bring products whose craftsmanship should be reflective of the artists' considerable skill, time and effort to produce a high quality, finished product. Each item should be original and unique.

COOPERATIVE MEMBERSHIP

Vendors may also become members of the Halifax Brewery Farmers Market Cooperative. Cooperatives offer a stable, sustainable and accountable alternative business model. Agrarian vendors who expand during peak season will be granted priority for additional space in their area, if booked at the end of their main season for the following year.

Seasonal Vendors attend market every Saturday for a defined season, maintaining a permanent table at the market during their season. Seasonal vendors outline the dates they wish to start and finish at the market, and are responsible for occupying their space for the duration of the term requested. Receipts will be issued digitally, annually. Returning seasonal vendors may renew their market application annually, preferably at the end of their season, but minimally one-month prior to their planned attendance.

Casual Vendors attend market irregularly, requesting space at the market as available. Approved casual vendor applicants should plan their attendance with the market manager in the week prior to their planned attendance via email. Casual Vendors are asked to check-in at the beginning of each market day at the information desk to deposit their payments and receive their receipts & booth location. Receipts will be issued only on the day-of. Participation is dependent on stall availability.

We will do our best to accommodate all casual-vendor requests, though priority will be given to:

Permanent and Seasonal Vendors are able to book-off four dates per year without paying their table fee. After booking off four dates, Permanent and Seasonal Vendors can book off additional dates, but are expected to pay their table fee. Permanent and Seasonal Vendors should discuss any extended absences with market staff, and may be asked to vacate their space. Casual Vendors are not expected to pay for their table fee for canceled days, when canceled with notice. Extraordinary circumstances (medical absences, compassionate leave, weather events, crop-failure) will be taken into account.

Storm Policy

In most circumstances, the market proceeds regardless of inclement weather. In rare and extraordinary circumstances, at the discretion of staff and in accordance with public safety

When the market is postponed, all other guidelines remain in place, including table fees for permanent, seasonal, and casual vendors. The decision to postpone the market will be communicated to customers and vendors no later than Thursday morning at 10am. Vendors are expected to make their own decision around their safety and attendance onsite.

COMPLIANCE & CONFLICT RESOLUTION

Markets are community events where a diversity of people gather to shop and sell. Vendors are expected to conduct themselves in a respectful, safe, courteous, and harmonious manner. The market manager, cooperative board, and vendors have equal responsibility to create a safe and positive environment at the market.

The market manager has the responsibility for ensuring compliance with applicable municipal, provincial, and federal regulations, the cooperative by-laws, and vendor handbook guidelines.

One verbal, then two written warnings will be given for violations of the Vendor Handbook. Three notices of violation will result in the cooperative board determining appropriate consequences for guideline violations. Consequences can include:

- Temporary suspension from the market
- Fines
- Revocation from the cooperative membership
- Permanent removal from the market
- Removal of any merchandise deemed unacceptable to the market

A vendor may appeal any decision within 30 days. An appeal must be presented in writing to the cooperative board. The cooperative board will issue a decision within 30 days of receipt; their decision is final and binding.

Complaints should be directed to the manager in a timely manner that is not disruptive to the Market. The manager will investigate the issue with a view to resolving the situation through discussion with pertinent parties. If a resolution cannot be reached, the manager will ask for those complaints in writing. Written complaints will be reviewed at the next scheduled board meeting, and any concerned parties will receive a written response in the subsequent week. Customer complaints received by the market will be forwarded to the relevant vendor and kept on file. Ongoing customer complaints will result in disciplinary action.

Vendors can submit a written product challenge form when they believe another vendor is misrepresenting their product. Forms can be supported by physical evidence of the offence. The product challenge form must be submitted within the week the violation is observed. The accused vendor must respond to the challenge in writing. Failure to respond in writing may result in a determination that the challenge is valid. The market manager, board, or third-party inspector may request a site visit. Should the vendor be found in violation, they may be suspended or removed from the market.

The cooperative board will administer any disputes not specified by the guidelines. Cooperative board decisions are made at their discretion and are final. The cooperative board reserves the right interpret this handbook & its guidelines at its discretion. Vendor handbook guidelines are reviewed annually at the cooperative AGM and may be changed at any time with two weeks' written notice.
